

Special Initiative by The Council of Architecture(COA) Graphisoft & Adroitec to move Indian Architects to BIM – Smart way to Design

Architects have got a new tool to enable them to focus on design, the drawings and documentation are output of the Virtual Building Model (VBM), also called BIM. Architects, world over are implementing the BIM to be more competitive.

To enable the Indian Architects to take advantage of the future technology, COA has signed an MOU with Adroitec Information Systems Limited and Graphisoft R&D zrt. to provide the Special Prices to Universities and Professional Architects.

University pack comprising 10 floating licences on the network for the CAD Lab and 20 Licences to be provided in the Library for issue to the faculty and the students at a special price of Rs.2.00 Lac.

Students of the college, which have already implemented ArchiCAD for their class room program will be able to get free download of a full licences of ArchiCAD licence CD and training CD could be delivered to the College @ Rs.500/-per student.

To enable the Professional architects to implement ArchiCAD – BIM solution, in their organisation Graphisoft through its Indian Partner Adroitec Information Systems Limited has offered the ArchiCAD licence at Rs.15,000/- plus taxes, Installation & Manual @ Rs.2,000/- only. Now the ArchiCAD – BIM solution is available at less than the price of any 2D software.

To train the Architect and faculty, NIASA has made special arrangement to introduce the faculty training program at its campus. It is also introducing Internet based training program for the professional.

Under the MOU, Adroitec & NIASA will start a Special Development Cell to build National Building Code in ArchiCAD. Singapore Development Authority has already implemented the ArchiCAD for the Code checking and plan clearance.

Mr. Vijay Sohoni, President of COA says “there was a long standing need for a software which would be inexpensive and versatile for the young architects of this country. Adroitec has fulfilled this need”.

Mr. Saroop Chand, Director of Adroitec says “ArchiCAD has already been implemented in 35 School of Architecture in India and over hundred projects have been completed by Indian Architects using ArchiCAD in the last one year. We are very excited by this initiative of the Council of Architecture and Senior Executive of the IIA to make a comprehensive program for students, colleges and professional architects to enable them to move forward with new software tool. BIM world over is already redefining the process of modeling, drawing preparation and documentation in the architectural office”.

ArchiCAD, developed by Graphisoft R&D zrt., Budapest is being used by over 200000 architects and over two million projects have already been completed. Graphisoft has now integrated the design (VBM) with Model Based Estimation (4D) and Scheduling (5D). These technologies of 3D, 4D & 5D are revolutionizing the construction industry leading to reduced disputes, cost and time to execute the Real Estate projects.
