

Council of Architecture Online Training Programme
in Collaboration with Thakur School of Architecture & Planning, Mumbai
INTERPRETATIONS OF SDGs IN ARCHITECTURE PEDAGOGY
Professional Practice and Multidisciplinary Studies

Convenor : Prof. Jayashree Deshpande, Director CoA-TRC, Pune
Coordinator : Ar. Dhiraj Salhotra, Principal, Thakur School Architecture & Planning, Mumbai

The Faculty Development Program (FDP) on Interpretation of Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) within the context of Professional Practice and Multidisciplinary Studies in architecture is of paramount importance. It would address the pressing need for architects and educators to comprehend and integrate the SDGs into their profession and teaching. This program's significance lies in equipping faculty members with the knowledge and tools to interpret and incorporate SDGs effectively into architectural practices and curricula, aligning architecture with global sustainability goals. Its objectives include enhancing faculty expertise in SDG interpretation, enriching architectural curricula with SDG-related content, fostering interdisciplinary collaboration, encouraging research that supports SDGs, and promoting community engagement to raise awareness and drive SDG-aligned solutions. Ultimately, this FDP would empower faculties to lead the way in creating sustainable, environmentally responsible, and socially conscious architectural designs for a better future.

Architectural education is vital in understanding multidisciplinary approaches in the field of architecture and increasing awareness of SDGs amongst architects and students. Therefore, this FDP-TRC focuses on educational needs to adopt these broad perspectives in the teaching-learning process. The center of the study would be at the TSAP campus relating the curriculum, research, publication, and teachers' training together. The aim is to understand the SDGs from an architect's point of view.

The Faculty Development Program seeks to equip architecture educators with the knowledge, tools, and multidisciplinary perspectives required to interpret and integrate Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) into teaching, research, and professional practice, thereby fostering sustainable, socially responsible, and future-ready architectural education.

Key takeaways

- Enhanced Pedagogical Approaches:
Participants will gain practical insights into designing and delivering courses that integrate knowledge across disciplines, fostering critical thinking, creativity, and collaborative problem-solving among students.
- Frameworks for Interdisciplinary Collaboration: Faculty will be equipped with tools and strategies to initiate and sustain interdisciplinary research and academic partnerships, enabling them to address complex societal and environmental issues through a holistic lens.
